

Africa is the youngest continent; 70% of the population of Sub-Saharan Africa is under thirty years old. Every Home is on a mission to carry the love of Christ to everyone, everywhere. And our teams in Africa are strategizing outreaches and creating materials specifically to reach children and young adults with the Good News. We share God's Word and the hope of the gospel alongside small gifts and practical help. Help give kids like Sekai and Ano the Greatest Gift this Christmas by visiting everyhome.org/Christmas or scanning the QR code above.

Location: Zimbabwe

“We visited Sekai and Ano at their home in Rujeko, to share God’s Word, prayer, Christmas joy, and gifts with them. Ano, has muscular dystrophy and cannot walk on his own. But he is very smart and does well in school. Sekai and Ano’s parents welcomed us warmly, and Pastor Biswick shared how God wants to show his power through people with disabilities. Ano said that when he grows up, he wants to become an engineer. The family was very grateful for our gifts. Sekai and Ano’s mother told us, ‘Maita basa nekutirangarirawo munguva ino ye Christmas,’ which means ‘Thank you for remembering us this Christmas season’ in the local language, Shona.”

Jesus Christ laid down his life for us.”

“During our recent outreach, I had the privilege of witnessing God’s love in action. We provided medical care to many in need, some of whom hadn’t seen a doctor in years. One woman expressed how grateful she was for the care, saying it felt like a ‘miracle’ that we were there. But the most touching moment came at the children’s Christmas party. Seeing over 300 kids laughing, playing, and receiving gifts was a reminder of God’s heart for the vulnerable. God truly moved in amazing ways, and I feel blessed to have been part of this team.”

*“Peace I leave with you;
my peace I give to you.”
John 14:27*

Location: Restricted Nation in Asia

Our Every Home team in a Restricted Nation in Asia shares this story: “During our recent outreach, we witnessed the heartbreaking aftermath of landslides and heavy rainfall—many families had lost loved ones, homes, and their sense of security. In one village, our team visited a home where the family was gripped by fear and uncertainty, unsure of what to do next. They told us they didn’t even have idols to worship; everything was gone. One of our brothers gently offered to pray for them. With hands lifted and hearts united, we prayed for peace, protection, and healing for the family. After the prayer, the woman of the house tearfully told us, ‘For the first time since the disaster, I feel a sense of peace and safety.’ God’s light still shines in the darkest places.”

“Our Christmas project in 2025 will reach 100 children in orphanages and 300 elderly people. And many more will experience Jesus’s love on the streets. The children we are focusing on reaching are often orphaned, abused, or neglected. They urgently need hope and God’s love. Elderly people, abandoned and near life’s end, also need Christ’s reconciliation. Pray that God comforts them, opens their hearts, and that local churches will embrace this opportunity to serve their communities and continue the work beyond this project.”

“We gave gospel literature to one man we met at a restaurant. He was so touched by it that we were able to strike up a conversation about hope and Who gives hope. Then we shared how Jesus is the God of hope and salvation. This man asked for more literature to share with his coworkers and roommates. Later on, we visited the same place and met some men who knew the man we had spoken with. They told us that the man had returned to his home country and had taken the gospel message to his family there as well!”

Every Home for Christ is on a mission to carry Christ to everyone, everywhere. We won't leave anyone behind! We make a special effort to reach people on the margins—people who might be outcasts from their communities, forgotten, or overlooked. We carry Christ's love, often through practical help, to people struggling with addiction, escaping prostitution, or living in extreme poverty. The love of Jesus is for every person. Our Every Home team in Madagascar shares:
“In the south, we reached out to young girls involved in prostitution. We organized special prayer meetings, shared the gospel, gave out Bibles and gifts, and offered vocational training courses to help them build a new future. We also started a Christ Group specifically for them, providing ongoing spiritual support and fellowship.”

or celebrate close to home,
may God's love go with you and light your way.*

Location: Myanmar

Every Home for Christ Myanmar partnered with a local church and twenty-four local believers to carry Christ to an area recently devastated by an earthquake. They traveled first by car, then by boat when roads were no longer practical, bringing relief supplies, including mosquito nets, dried noodles, and other necessities to sixty-six households. Along with these practical gifts, the team shared the Good News of Jesus through gospel materials. They prayed with families, and many who were grieving loss after the disaster experienced God's love and received Jesus as their Savior.

Every Home is on a mission to carry the love of Jesus to everyone, everywhere. In partnership with other ministries, we produce and share Bibles, Scripture portions, and other biblical resources with people around the world. Location: Restricted Nation Asia

This story comes to us from a nation in Asia where legal restrictions on Christian ministry make it difficult to distribute Bibles. Many who want Bibles can't find one. Believers must balance courage with caution.

"I am a bus driver, and I had a passenger who looked like a shiny person. He looked different, he had something about him. After we started the trip, he pulled this weird book out of his bag. It was very worn and had a slightly ripped cover. I asked him what it was. He said it's a Bible, and I said I always wanted one of those. Well, do you know what happened? I became a Christian that day! The man with the Bible told me that he had prayed and told the Lord he would give away five Bibles to people who asked about his Bible. He gave me my own Bible, and when I read it, I felt overwhelming joy. I am saved because of this book."

*“I bring you good news
that will cause great joy
for all the people.”
Luke 2:10*

Location: Trinidad and Tobago

Our Every Home office in Trinidad and Tobago writes:
“Many churches in Trinidad and Tobago continue to reach out to us, asking for guidance and training in evangelism and discipleship. There is a great need for consistent, hands-on, culturally relevant evangelism training. If we are to remain relevant and valuable, we need to focus on the younger generation and get into their digital space, understanding what they are going through, and looking at the world through their lens.”
